NO ARRESTS MADE

Real estate agent sexually assaulted Man was in home she had planned to show

CHARLES D. PERRY
(Rock Hill) Herald

A Rock Hill real estate agent was sexually assaulted over the weekend in a home she planned to show to a friend, according to the Rock Hill police.

The incident happened around 9:30 a.m. Saturday in the 300 block of South Jones Avenue, a police report stated.

Police learned of the allegations shortly before 10:20 a.m. Saturday when a woman flagged down the responding officer and told him that her 33-year-old friend, a real estate agent, had been assaulted.

The woman said the agent had come to the address to show her a real-estate listing, the report stated.

The friend told police the agent went inside the home before the friend arrived. A man hiding inside confronted her, the report stated. The man, whose identity is unknown, then forced the agent to the floor and raped her inside the home, according to the report.

When police tried to talk to the victim Saturday, she would not tell them what happened and could not give them a detailed physical description of her attacker, the report stated.

No arrests had been made as of late Monday, said Rock Hill police Lt. Jerry Waldrop.

Anyone who noticed anything suspicious in the area Saturday morning should call Rock Hill police at 803-329-7200 or Crime Stoppers at 877-409-4321.
